

A DECADE OF RAIN

Agent Orange over South Vietnam, 1961–1971

Between 1961 and 1971 the United States sprayed nearly 20 million gallons of herbicide over the forests, mangroves and croplands of South Vietnam. This site draws where it fell, run by run, from the HERBS file: the U.S. military’s own record of every mission.

